Did you know that the British creative industries are booming?

There are thousands of exciting job roles in areas such as film, computer games, fashion and more. That's why we want you to know about the vast range of career opportunities on offer and feel inspired to go after them.

We're working with Discover! Creative Careers Week 2023 to deliver a week of FREE 1 to 5-hour virtual insight sessions with leading employers – including face-to-face opportunities in some regions – to give you a glimpse of what's out there.
